BUCHANAN WILL ARRIVE SUNDAY

To Meet Francis in the Afternoon.

HE COMES TO SUGGEST PLANS

WILL MEET THE VARIOUS FAIR COMMITTEES.

Maj. Brackett of Washington, D. C., in Consultation With Officials Here—Historical Committee's Elaborate Plans.

William I. Buchanan, director-general of the Pan-American Exposition, will arrive in St. Louis at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Buchanan.

Mr. Buchanan comes to St. Louis at the suggestion of the World's Fair committee on scope and at the invitation of President Francis.

He probably will remain in the city a week. During that time he will meet with every working committee of the World's Fair organization and also will meet with all the directors.

He will hear the plans of each committee and will suggest ways in which they may be improved.

A member of the scope committee which suggested inviting Mr. Buchanan to St. Louis told the Post-Dispatch that the various committees feel the need of expert counsel and believed that Mr. Buchanan could fill the need.

Just how Mr. Buchanan will be entertained while in the city will not be decided until after his arrival. Neither will any attempt be made to arrange committee meetings with him until after his wishes have been learned.

President Francis probably will call on Mr. Buchanan Sunday afternoon, and then the matter of meetings and consultations will be talked over.

Mr. Buchanan is coming to meet the committee and the directors and talk over their plans, and that is all he is coming for," said Secretary Stevens Saturday morning.

Consultation With Maj. Brackett. President Francis and Secretary Stevens held a lengthy consultation Saturday noon with Maj. Fred S. Brackett of Washington, D. C., who was secretary and disbursing officer of the United States commission to the Paris Exposition in 1900.

The historical committee of the World's Fair organization will meet at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the office of the chairman, Pierre Chouteau, and will discuss its recommendations to the executive committee as regards the scope of the exhibits under its charge.

It also will decide how much space it will request for the exhibit, and make a preliminary request for the desired amount will be prepared.

After the meeting in Mr. Chouteau's office the committee will go to the World's Fair headquarters and hold another session there with President Francis.

A historical building is the main feature planned by the historical committee. In this building will be placed all exhibits of a historical character. Historical exhibits are expected to form an important part of the fair and for this reason the historical committee is desirous of securing, as large an allotment of space as possible.

The collection of documents and other historical articles belonging to the past 25 years by the Missouri Historical Society will, according to present plans, form the center of the exhibit. A plan is on foot to make the historical building permanent and, after the fair, to convert it into a museum, where the collections of the Missouri Historical Society shall always remain.

This collection deals chiefly with the Louisiana Purchase.

There is no rain in sight. Acting Observer Spencer says that warm weather for St. Louis will keep right on.

"No prospects of rain for St. Louis," said Acting Observer Spencer at 11 o'clock Saturday morning.

"Rather," he continued, "will it remain fair and warm."

The rainfall throughout the country has been extremely slight during the last 24 hours. No rains at all occurred in Missouri. Barometric conditions are unchanged and Mr. Spencer is willing to wager no cooler weather will set in yet awhile.

In St. Louis the mercury is still hovering around the 100 mark and in the rural districts the temperature is slightly higher. The East is enjoying cooler weather and at several places in the lake region persons are wearing overcoats.

THE WEATHER INDICATIONS. Fair and warm.

For St. Louis and vicinity—Fair Saturday night and Sunday; continued warm.

WASHINGTON, July 20.—Forecast: Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa—Generally fair Saturday night and Sunday; continued warm; southerly winds.

Oklahoma, Indian Territory and Texas—Generally fair Saturday night and Sunday; light to fresh variable winds on coast.

MOST VERSATILE ST. LOUISAN DIES

Wayman McCreery Expired Saturday Afternoon.

HAD BEEN ILL THREE MONTHS

CEREBRAL APOPLEXY THE CAUSE OF HIS DEMISE.

Popular St. Louisan, Well Known for His Accomplishments, Succumbed Saturday After a Long Illness at His Home.

Wayman Crow McCreery died at his home, 3841 Westminster place, at 1:45 o'clock Saturday afternoon, in his 51st year.

He had been dangerously ill for several days and his death was expected.

His death was due to cerebral apoplexy. He had been an invalid for three months.

Mr. McCreery was known as the most versatile man in St. Louis. He was master of many accomplishments, in any one of which the average man would be content to be proficient.

His widest fame, probably, was as a billiard player. He was a champion of the cue sport and was noted particularly for his smooth and accurate play.

In St. Louis he was noted particularly for his smooth and accurate play. He was the tenor soloist and choir director of Christ Church Cathedral.

He wrote an opera, something like a dozen years ago entitled, "L'Africain," which was produced in New York by the McCaull Opera company.

Mr. McCreery was an enthusiastic cricket player, a capable golfer in recent years, a baseball player and a gymnast.

He was a high-grade chess player, an artist of some ability and one of the finest ice skaters St. Louis has ever developed.

In all these things, Mr. McCreery was purely an amateur. He was a son of rich parents, inherited a fortune and added to his possessions by attention to his real estate.

Mr. McCreery was tall, rugged and athletic, 6 feet in height, broad-shouldered and weighing about 200 pounds.

Mr. McCreery was born in St. Louis in September, 1850. His father was Phobias R. McCreery. The senior Mr. McCreery was in the wholesale dry goods business with the late Wayman Crow, one of St. Louis' pioneer merchants.

The firm name being Crow, McCreery & Co. Mr. McCreery was married to Miss Mary Louise Crow, one of St. Louis' pioneer merchants.

Grammar School at Racine, Wis., and later finished his education in Paris, Frank Day over, Louisville.

Mr. McCreery was married over a quarter of a century ago to Miss Mary Louise Crow, one of St. Louis' pioneer merchants.

She and three of their four children survive him. They are Mrs. Oscar Vieth, Mrs. John McCreery, Mrs. Mary McCreery and Mrs. Andrew McCreery, aged 12 and Katherine, aged 9.

The second daughter, Miss Christine McCreery, died a year ago in Denver, while on a western trip with her parents.

Mr. McCreery had one brother, William H., who died in 1881. He had two sisters, George Allen of St. Louis, and Mrs. Allen of Denver, Colo.

During a portion of Cleveland's second term as mayor, Mr. McCreery served as collector of the internal revenue for the Eastern district of Missouri.

LOST MAIL BAG DISCOVERED. It Was Taken on and Dropped From a Wabash Train.

A mail pouch containing several hundred letters was found by the police Saturday morning at Euclid avenue and the Wabash tracks.

It had been placed on a Wabash train westbound and whether it was accidentally dropped from the car or taken therefrom by robbers has not been ascertained. As far as the postal authorities are aware no mail was taken from the bag.

Postoffice Inspector Sullivan said at noon that he had received no information of any missing pouch.

DISPOSED TO GO TO WORK. Strike Situation About Wilkesbarre Is Much Improved.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 20.—Operations were resumed today at the Avondale mine of the Lackawanna Coal Co., the striking firemen who were members of the United Mine Workers having returned to work. The strike situation in this district has improved materially today, advices received at headquarters indicating a disposition on the part of the miners to return to work.

NEW FACTS MAY CLEAR FOSBURG

New York Detectives Claim to Know the Murderers.

THEY WERE THE BURGLARS

THE PROSECUTION HAS FORGED A CHAIN OF CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE.

The Courtroom Is Crowded With Aristocratic and Beautifully Gowned Women, Friends of the Family.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. PITTSFIELD, Mass., July 20.—Capt. Titus, chief of detectives of New York City, is working on a supposed clue to the Fossburg murder mystery, which, if it develops as he anticipates, will clear Robert Stewart Fossburg of the charge of shooting his sister, May, and place the crime on a gang of professional burglars. The information came from Capt. Titus several weeks ago through two women who are well known in McGurk's "Suicide Hall" and other Bovey resorts.

"Our information," said Capt. Titus yesterday, "points to burglars. It is based upon statements made in a court by a professional crook who was under the influence of liquor. We have three witnesses who were present at the time. That is all I am at liberty to state for the present. The man I suspect has not been in New York for several weeks, although he usually makes his headquarters here."

On the other hand, the trial has been adjourned until Monday when Chief Nicholson of the Fossburg office will tell what he is confident no one except Fossburg killed the sister, May.

Thus far the commonwealth has forged several links in the chain of circumstances by which it seeks to fasten the killing of sister on Robert Stewart Fossburg. Nine witnesses have thus far been examined. This is the chain as thus far completed:

Three Links in the Chain. First link—Robert Stewart Fossburg told Pinkerton Detective Connors, State Detective Whitney and Dr. Paddock that one of the burglars turned, while in or just outside the window of the kitchen bedroom, as he was escaping, and fired back at the Fossburg family. The shot went into the comb on a cheap bureau that stood against the door. Seven witnesses have been examined by lines drawn from the bullet's course on the bureau that the shot could not come from the window.

Second link—Witness Rose, expert in firearms, testified that the bullet, the comb box was from a thirty-caliber cartridge, similar to the one young Fossburg bought when he bought the pistol that disappeared on the night of the killing.

Third link—After he qualified as an expert, Dr. Draper was allowed to show that because of the powder stains on the night-dress worn by the murdered girl, she must have been held within eight inches of her breast when it was fired. He was also allowed to testify that a bullet from a thirty-two caliber revolver fired at that close range would not entirely through a well nourished body.

Chief Nicholson has had charge of the case since Fossburg's arrest. He has a dictum was found. He sits in the courtroom with the state's lawyers and directs their questions. More knowledge of the reasons why an indictment was found than any other person in the case.

It is likely that Beatrice and James Fossburg will also be seen. The prosecution will finish by Monday night or Tuesday noon.

"Dirty Dick" Quinn as a Witness. It is reported here on the best authority that the state has "Dirty Dick" Quinn in custody and will bring him Monday or Tuesday to testify as to the whereabouts of his notorious "Wire Gang" on the night Miss Fossburg was killed. It is understood that Quinn will swear that his gang was made up of the members of the "Wire Gang."

Other members of the gang, Hackett, Peterson and Hily are in jail in various parts of New England.

It has always been the contention of the Fossburg family that the burglars were members of the "Wire Gang." It has been admitted that Peterson, Hily and Hackett were not in Pittsfield on the night of the murder. It has always been suspected by the Fossburgs that the brown desperado found in the yard on the morning after the murder was Quinn. It is likely the state can disprove this or Quinn would not be held as a probable witness.

The contention of the police that at the time of the murder there were only four of the "Wire Gang" in this neighborhood. The Fossburg detectives have held that there were twelve in the gang hereabouts, split into parties of four.

Court Filled With Pretty Women. When the aged court crier, resplendent with brass buttons and sweltering in his big blue broadcloth coat, piped, "God save the Commonwealth of Massachusetts," yes, the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, yes, the courtroom was much like that at a big daylight function in a fashionable house in the Berkshire Hills.

The people thereabouts have made a trial a sort of society affair. The big space allotted to the bar was filled with feminine representatives of the best and oldest families of the region.

The Plunketts of Adams were there. Col. Plunkett is Republican national committeeman for Massachusetts and an intimate friend and entertainer of President McKinley. There were present also representatives of the Hawkins, Wilcox, Brown, Kinney, Edwards, Brooks, Colt, Plumb, Bartlett, Cutting, Babst, Story, Bodwell and Baldwin families, aristocratic people of this ancient and exclusive city.

The women were superbly gowned. They attracted much attention as they took off their hats and exchanged greetings with one another. In the seats outside the bar there were women of the town.

R. C. Fossburg, brother of the senior Fossburg and John L. Stewart, Mrs. Fossburg's sister, were here. Loren L. Lewis, a lawyer from Buffalo and college mate of young Fossburg's, has arrived, as did Mr. Sloan, mother of the younger Mrs. Fossburg.

The arrival of Messrs. Stewart and Fossburg and Mrs. Sloan brings every blood relative of the family here. The courtroom in a solid phalanx and sit near the accused young man all day extending sympathy and counsel to him. Many of the friends of the Fossburg family from Adams and this city are also present at twenty-five persons.

In all the Fossburg party numbered twenty-five persons. The party provided great bunches of sweet peas for the ladies. A little Beatrice and her mother came up the courthouse steps two little girls handed them bouquets of carnations. They were literally loaded down with flowers by the time they reached their seats. The judge had a bunch of sweet peas solo, and he looked as if he enjoyed them.

Yesterday court took a five-minute recess to greet ex-United States Senator Dawes.

THE FOSBURGS ENTERING THE COURT ROOM

Robert Stewart Fossburg, Accused of Shooting His Sister May, Just Before Taking His Seat With His Young Wife.

LIFE WAS DEATH WITHOUT A WIFE

Karl Bauer Hanged Himself Friday Night.

WAS IN DOMESTIC TROUBLE

WIFE AND CHILDREN HAD LEFT HIM ALONE.

Letter From Mrs. Bauer Found in Suicide's Pocket, Indicates That They Could Not Agree—Body Taken to the Morgue.

Karl Bauer hanged himself to a trussion at his home, 6324 Old Manchester road, some time Friday night. His lifeless body was discovered about 6:30 o'clock Saturday morning by Mrs. Johanna Hoffman of 5222 Old Manchester road. She notified Police- man Healey of the Mounted district, who cut down the corpse and forwarded it to the morgue.

Domestic difficulties are held by the police to be the cause of the suicide. Bauer's suicide. He was 59 years of age, married and had four children.

A few weeks ago Mrs. Bauer left her husband and took her youngest child with her. She is thought to have gone to the home of friends in Kirkwood.

According to the police report, the two sons, Charles, aged 10, and Frank, aged 5, were placed in the House of Refuge and the daughter, Rosa, aged 16, found a home with the family of Michael Brode, 4044 avenue and Sarah street.

Bauer worked as usual after he was left alone in the little house. He gave no indication that he was going to kill himself.

When the body was cut down, policemen found in Bauer's pockets $18.55 in cash and a letter written in German. This letter, undated, unsigned and addressed simply "Karl" is evidently from the suicide's wife. It upbraids him for talking about her and making remarks reflecting on her character to the children.

The writer announces her intention of leaving him, as he asked her to do, and says that she will put the children in an orphan asylum. She says she will pay their expenses there for the first month, but that she will expect him to look out for their expenses thereafter.

An inquest will be held by Dr. Boogher, deputy coroner, Sunday morning.

LONG STRUGGLE IS CERTAIN

Statement of J. P. Morgan Insures Strike's Continuance.

STRIKERS BECOMING RESTIVE

COMPANY WILL ATTEMPT TO RESUME AT WELLSVILLE MONDAY.

Peaceful Conduct Is Advised, but There Is Apprehension of Trouble When Non-Union Men Arrive There.

MAY CALL OUT ALL STEEL WORKERS. Special to the Post-Dispatch. PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 20.—"Yes, I have read Mr. Morgan's statement," said President Shaffer today. "He doesn't seem to care much about the stock of the United States Steel Corporation, does he? If I had the time I would like to reply to Mr. Morgan and perhaps ask him a few questions. But now I have nothing to say. What's the use?"

"Mr. Morgan says the position of the operating companies is simple and well understood. So is ours. We have prepared our plans for full deliberation as to where we will land. We know exactly what we want to do. Now, we intend to go ahead and do it. That's all that need be said just now. We are satisfied with the outlook and the conditions. We intend to win the fight, and we will use fair means."

"It is possible that we may have to declare a general strike," Mr. Shaffer resumed, "and order out the men in the employ of the National and Federal Steel Co. It has not come to this as yet, however, and I trust the occasion will never necessitate this action. We want to win, and will win, but will do nothing rash or anything that will cause suffering among our men."

"We have received assurances from other trades organizations that any and all aid we may need will be forthcoming, but as we are at present situated we are more than holding our own, and we need no aid."

PITTSBURGH, July 20.—The steel strike has reached the critical stage and the developments of the next 72 hours are expected to have an important bearing on the great struggle.

By Monday night the results of the attempts of the combine officials to resume operations at Wellsville and McKeesport should be known, and upon the success or failure of these, the outcome of the struggle will greatly depend.

So far, the contending forces appear to have been watching each other, but the statement from J. P. Morgan has changed the complexion of the situation. Everybody is talking about this now, and at Amalgamated headquarters all is bustle and action. The strikers are ready to meet the non-union men in any further attempt to resume work, and a long struggle may be expected.

A large number of railroad tickets from here to Wellsville have been purchased within the last few days, which are reported to be for the new force. At Wellsville no men have as yet appeared, but it is reported that they are quartered at the hotel there and will move on Monday morning.

The strikers at Wellsville are watching all incoming trains, and it is now hoped that no trouble will take place when the men arrive. The strikers are not in despair, and what may happen when they see the new men come in to take their place it is difficult to predict. The company is taking every precaution to obviate trouble. A high fence surrounds the mill property, and carloads of lumber have been taken into the mill, presumably for the purpose of housing the new men within the mill.

A secret meeting of the strikers has been called for this morning which will be presided over by Vice-President Chappell. At McKeesport a force of men are still at work cleaning up and getting the Derwent Wood plant in shape for early operation.

It is said that about 100 men from the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers are ready to resume operations. President Shaffer says that the lodge is two as strong now as during the April strike, and he feels confident the business will remain steadfast to the issue. This afternoon the Amalgamated Association will hold a large meeting at which the strikers will be present and address the strikers. President Shaffer says he will principally counsel tolerance, sobriety and total abstinence from any acts tending to violence.

The men of the plants of the National Tube Co. at McKeesport have been invited to attend the meeting and an effort will be made to have them join the association. Even so, the tube works are organized, it is not probable they will be ordered out by the Amalgamated Association until President Shaffer is ready to issue his general strike order, directed against the United States Steel Corporation. President Shaffer will not discuss the possibility of a general strike. Neither will he say when he will be ready with his general order to the other companies.

"We will not carry the fight any further than we can avoid," said Mr. Shaffer. "We have no desire to resume the business interests of the country unnecessarily. If we are forced to it we will go resolutely, but we hope to be able to secure a settlement without resorting to these measures."

MAY ARRANGE CONFERENCE. Special to the Post-Dispatch. PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 20.—John Jarrett, labor secretary of the American Sheet Steel Co., and Joseph B. Blinn, secretary of the Ohio board of arbitration, both of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers, are said to have gone to New York in the interests of peace. From the Amalgamated Association it is said that information on this point could be obtained, although several intimates said there would be many surprises for the public before long.

The visit of Blinn to New York is significant. It is believed that he will attempt to arrange a conference between the strikers and the company.

BASEBALL NEWS AND SPORTING FEATURES OF THE DAY

CURRENT
COMMENT.

The Cardinals are closer to the pennant today than they have been at any time this season.

Only 20 points now separate them from the Pittsburgh leaders.

One week ago today the difference was 23 points. Pittsburgh's average then was 61; the Cardinals', 59.

Six days ago the difference was 22 points. Five days ago it was 20.

Eight days ago there was a gap of 20 points between the Cardinals and Pittsburgh.

Now the Pirates have come down below the 50 mark—they touched 48 July 15—and the best they can boast of is 50.

The Cardinals' nearest competitor is Philadelphia, with 54.

Consternation-stricken fans, anxious over the showing of the Cardinals Thursday, smoothed out their wrinkled visages after Friday's victory.

Reports were current Thursday that the team was on the decline—because of losing one game—and that disaster to pennant chances was imminent.

Friday the St. Louis team jumped in and won so easily and showed such all-around effectiveness that no one can doubt the team will make a great fight for first place.

The Cardinals are now in excellent shape for a pennant battle. They are close on Pittsburgh's heels, and have a fair lead over all teams but Philadelphia, which at present appears to be a dangerous factor.

The coming games for St. Louis would be easy. Cincinnati plays on Sunday, and Chicago four next week. St. Louis should not have the least difficulty in taking the odd game, and may annex four out of five.

As a matter of fact both Cincinnati and Chicago are having some trouble in the south of the state.

The Chicagoans have been playing improved ball lately, beating Boston and New York handsily.

It is hard to figure them out as winning more than half from St. Louis, however, and the probability that they will be several points better off in the percentage after the visit of the Windy City men.

Dinson, Boston's clever pitcher, denies to the story of his going out of the field weeping at the conclusion of that extraordinary game with Pittsburgh which was lost by one run.

Dinson says that he was naturally cut up over the loss of the contest after having pitched so well.

He says that the story of his crying over it is a canard. Dinson does not look much like a man who has won a game, and he is not to be deceived over the loss of one however hard luck may have broken for him.

Dick Cooley, at one time a wearer of St. Louis baseball colors, and since a member of the Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Syracuse teams, has returned to the Boston team.

Cooley was one of the best fielders the St. Louis team had in the days when he played here, and was gobbled up by Philadelphia as a star.

He was a valuable utility man. Of course he will have to make the first cushion when Tenny gets into the game again but he can fill in the outfield nicely in emergency.

Umpire Nash will probably be in the game this afternoon. He has been feeling too well and Shriver and Nichols of Boston did the indicator work.

Shriver is making a great hit in calling balls and strikes. In the three games in which he has officiated recently, he has had very few questioned decisions by either home or visiting teams.

Perhaps Shriver will follow the lead of Nash when his baseball career is over and join Nick Young's staff of umpires.

They are "sore" over in Pittsburgh. Fred Clarke was not angry Friday and asked the Pittsburgh players to be good.

He was a fair to make up second, at a critical stage of the game, when the Cardinals were in a fair way to make up second.

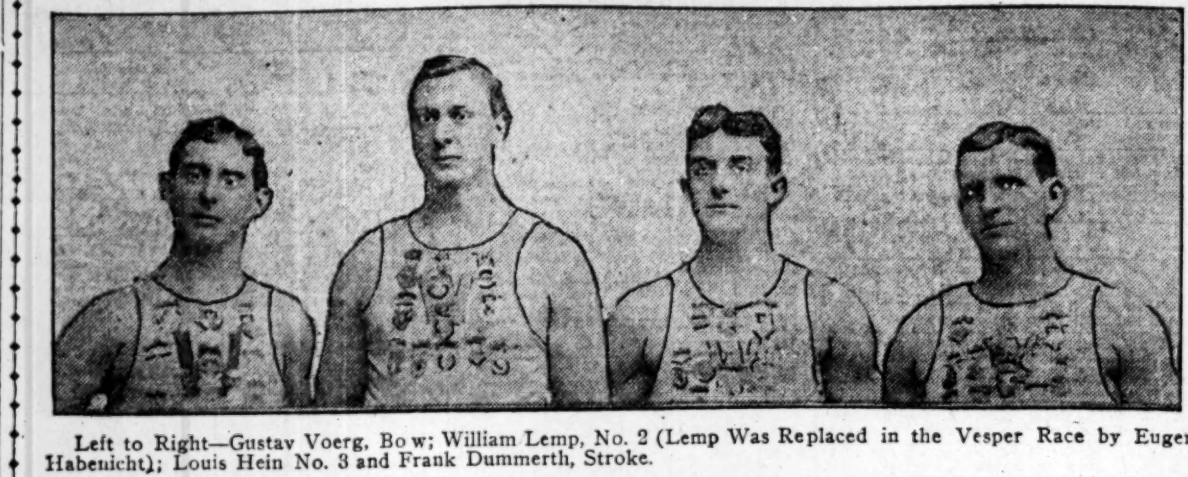

He called him out and Clarke went after him, shaking his fist in his face.

The crowd took the cue and swarmed on the grounds, several threatening to mob him. But for the interference of several of the Brooklyn players he would probably have been roughly handled.

As it was, the police came in the nick of time and pulled him out of the mob.

Pittsburgh is probably taking the loss of four straight games very much to heart.

Reports of backsliding on the part of the Cardinals received quietus Friday when Jack Powell, ably assisted by eight other Donovans, defeated Boston 8 to 1.

According to all appearances, and but for a bad bound that a batted ball from Dinson's bat, the Cardinals would have won a shut out.

John, the boiler maker, pitched a perfect ball, Slagle being the only member of the Boston team to find him successfully. Five hits were made off his delivery, and Slagle got three of them.

The Bostonians were normally twisting their spines in a vain endeavor to find which corner of the plate Powell was going to cut next, but never succeeded.

The beautiful part of the game was that St. Louis hit behind Powell. It is not often that a team can do this.

Generally he has to contend against every adverse condition that makes life a burden to a pitcher.

He pitches good ball always, but it is rarely that the team does what it did Friday.

Friday, however, the custom was changed, and every man on the team saw to it that he was in the game.

McGinn and Donovan led in the safety line, each getting three safeties and two runs.

Kruger, too, hit the ball nicely, and the team played with dash and vim, and the snail crowd of enthusiasts were mightily pleased at the improved showing over the game of Thursday.

Wallace was the bright particular star of the holding game. He dug two hard ones out of the dust that looked awfully safe, and which would not have gone for errors had they passed him.

Heinemann is the champion discus thrower of the world and in the discus throw will be given at Handan's Park, Sunday, August 4.

Entries to the Irish Nationalists' games are free. Tom Ward of 1743 N. Jefferson avenue, Con O'Brien at Mermod & Jackson, and Pat Byrne of 2810 Dickson street will receive entries. John J. Faced a Mile in 2:08.
At the closing day of the Detroit Detroit Club's meeting at Grosse Pointe, Friday, the 2:11 class pacing was won in 2:08 by Harold H. Time, 2:09, 2:08 and 2:10.

The Consolation M. and M. stakes, for 2:24 trotters, was won by Belle Kuser, Richmond, who won the 2:27 class pace, made a spectacular finish in the second heat which he won in 2:11 flat.

Baseball Notes.
Chicago and St. Louis will play off a postponed game during the coming week of the city players. No double headers will be carded, however, as the team has an open date which will serve very nicely for the Cardinals.

Donovan does not want any more double headers for some time to come.

The last one almost put the team on the run, by using up the men and all of the double headers. Another double-header in the present condition of the team would take the heart out of the players and would doubtless injure their effectiveness.

Most of the Cardinals are complaining that the continued heat is affecting them. It is not so much the heat of the day, as the heat of the night, when they say they are unable to get needed rest at night and cannot keep on edge.

Other cities have been having hot weather besides St. Louis, but in almost every case the nights have been cool. The Boston men say St. Louis is the hottest place they ever struck, and that in Chicago they had to wear their vests at night, and in no place have they suffered from extreme heat.

Children, the second for St. Louis and Chicago, is making good in the latter city. He is filling the shoes of his predecessor, who has been a star here and there.

Children may be a capable player. He had little opportunity in St. Louis, and though his work on the few occasions when he officiated was anything but promising, it may have been due to lack of practice.

Missing From Home.—Matthew Kelley, 35 years old, single, living at 4221 Blaine avenue, is reported as missing from his home since July 15. He is 5 feet 10 inches tall and weighs about 175 pounds. He has dark hair and blue eyes. He is a native of St. Louis and has been in the city since 1890.

POST-DISPATCH CAMERA
FARES FORTH TO THE BALL GAME AND FINDS THE GREAT VOICE

"PUT 'EM OVAH, JACK." The Great Ethiopian Voice Which Daily Thunders at League Park, Reproduced by the Post-Dispatch Camera.

Human Megaphone, Well-Known to League Park Fans, Is Caught Telling Powell to "Put 'Em Ovah."

The Great Ethiopian Voice has at last been located. He was discovered during the game Friday by the Post-Dispatch, after diligent search, and photographed.

This is positively the first time a voice has ever been taken with a camera.

The Voice has long been known to patrons of the game of baseball in St. Louis. He has been known, that is, only by the sense of hearing. You will recognize him immediately upon taking your seat at first you will mistake him for a megaphone; but don't be deceived—it is only the Voice.

Everybody knows that the Voice is here reproduced. It is known because it is here reproduced. It is known because it is here reproduced. It is known because it is here reproduced.

OFFICERS AMBUSHED
REVENUE DEPUTY KILLED AND TWO BADLY WOUNDED.

VICTIMS OF MOONSHINERS
They Were Preparing for a Raid in Puntnam County, Tenn., When Waylaid.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., July 20.—A party of revenue officers were ambushed about six miles from Monterey, in Puntnam County, at 4 o'clock this morning, and one man was killed and two badly wounded.

The posse was led by Deputy Collector Bell, and they were creeping along a steep hillside above an illicit still when they received an order to throw up their hands.

They had barely located the speaker 40 feet below them, when a number of moonshiners poured a volley upon them.

Deputy Marshal Thomas Price was instantly killed, and C. Mackey was badly wounded.

The officers returned the fire but the moonshiners made the glare so hot that Collector Bell and the survivors retired and carried Mackey with them. One moonshiner was heard moaning and calling to his comrades that he had been mortally wounded.
